Requirement credits would increase from 17 to 20 credits with the addition of SGR #3 – PSYC 101 General Psychology (3 cr.).

RESP 119 Introduction to the Respiratory Care Profession (2 cr.) will provide students with a first-year experience course in respiratory care. The course will orient students to the respiratory care profession and introduce important disciplinary terminology. A review of the major courses identified an imbalance between lecture, laboratory, and clinical courses. Changes are proposed to course credit distribution to ensure students have a solid knowledge and skill base from lecture and lab followed by opportunities for application in the clinical setting.

The limit on repeat general education requirements is to ensure students are set up for success when progressing through the program.
